

The 1850 Taylor/Frey/Leavitt House Museum in Waterboro Center

Open to the public free of charge each Saturday from 1 to 3 p.m.
Or by appointment through Columbus Day Weekend.

The 1850 Taylor/Frey/Leavitt House Museum is an unspoiled dwelling with many original features. Added exhibits in the ell and barn include antique cobbler, optician, barber and blacksmith shops.

Scroll down or see next pages for more photos:

Backyard Garden View

Dance and Elbow Chair Nippon (Painting Shell)

The Nursery

The Nursery

Left Bedroom

Left Bedroom

Front Right Bedroom

Front Right Bedroom

Crazy Quilt on bed in Back Left Bedroom

Front Parlor with Hazzard's room on the Parlor

Fireplace in Front Parlor

Typewriter in Sitting room

Front Left Bedroom

Front Left Bedroom

Front Left Bedroom

Spinning Wheel at Top of Stairs

Black Lake Bedroom

Central Shop

Black Lake Bedroom

Central Shop

Dining room with fireplace and framed photos

Spring White spruce in Waving Dobby

Black Lake Cabinet in Dining room

For more information, call Jim Carll at 247-5878

The Waterborough Historical Society
P.O. Box 498
North Waterboro, Maine 04061
