Fall term taught by Miss Lillian M. Fall of this town. The attendance during this term was very small on account of sickness of the larger part of the scholars. Miss Fall did her best for those who attended, who made good advancement under her instruction.

There have been two terms of school in this district during the year under the instruction of Miss Rose M. Emery of this town. Miss Emery is one of our young teachers. Her methods of instruction are good and the scholars made good advancement while under her charge.

DISTRICT NO. 7.—SAMUEL LEWIS, AGENT.

Winter term taught by Benj. F. Wentworth of Limington. This is Mr. Wentworth's second term in this district. He is earnest and energetic and gave his best efforts to the scholars under his charge who manifested a degree of interest that insured a successful term.

DISTRICT NO. 9.—GEORGE JOHNSON, AGENT.

Summer and fall terms taught by Miss Estelle C. Deering of this town. Miss Deering is a careful, conscientious teacher and endeavored to do her best for the scholars under her care. This is one of the schools where vocal music was taught during the term and I was pleased with the exercises at the close.

Winter term taught by F. J. Dennett of Hollis. Mr. Dennett is a teacher of experience and although unable to visit the school but once on account of sickness, I feel sure that the method of instruction adopted at the commencement together with the interest manifested by the scholars made this a profitable term.

His manner is pleasing in the schoolroom; he won the love and respect of his scholars, who showed careful training in the closing examination.

Mrs. Littlefield won the love and respect of her scholars in her first term and has endeavored to merit the same throughout the succeeding terms. The advancement made by this school and the closing examination show earnest effort and close application on the part of the scholars. The order and discipline were good.

In submitting this my third annual report of the schools of this town, I am glad to report a general improvement throughout the town. This is in part due to the uniformity of text books furnished by the town under the free text book act.

which came into effect August 1st, 1890. Our agents have endeavored to secure the services of teachers thoroughly competent, and with a few exceptions, our town teachers have been employed and I am glad, not only to report the success of our teachers in our own town, but to note their success in other towns. In selecting teachers for our children, I feel that too great care cannot be exercised.

I have been glad also to observe the patriotic feeling manifested by our citizens in raising the stars and stripes over four of our schoolhouses and I sincerely hope that in the near future this emblem of our national unity may float over every schoolhouse in our town. Let the veterans who have fought under its starry folds and thus learned the true love of country use their influence to put them there. Let our children also not only put in their mites of money, but solicit the aid of older ones to collect the necessary funds to place a flag over their own schoolhouse. I feel a deep interest in the education of our children and it is with sincere pleasure I have noted the improvement of our schools in general and I would especially impress upon the minds of both teacher and scholars the necessity of good order and thorough discipline to maintain a good school. I would extend my thanks to the teachers and scholars for the kindness and attention with which I have always been received and I earnestly hope the scholars in whom I have become so much interested may have such instruction as will best fit them for the future.

Respectfully submitted,

H. M. LITTLEFIELD, Supervisor.
