Winter Term—Edgar W. Churchill, of Shapleigh, Teacher.
Whole number attending school, 28; average number attending school, 25; length of term in weeks, 11; wages of teacher per month, $24.36; price of board per week, $3.00.
Mr. Churchill is a thorough scholar, and has had experience in teaching, this being his sixth term. At my first visit this school gave evidence of success; a good interest was manifested and good order was maintained, but for some cause, (which is better known by those living in the district) some dissension arose; however, Mr. Churchill was drawn on the jury and the term finished by his brother, Rev. R. W. Churchill. At the close this school gave good satisfaction and, as a whole, quite good work was done.

District No. 3. Sherman Young, Agent.
Whole number of scholars in the district, 24.
Spring Term—Lottie P. Bradford, of Shapleigh, Teacher.
Whole number attending school, 14; average number attending school, 11; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $3.00; price of board per week, $1.50.
Fall Term—Same Teacher.
Whole number attending school, 9; average number attending school, 8; length of term in weeks, 10; wages of teacher per week, $5.25; price of board per week, $1.50.
This was Miss Bradford's first attempt at teaching, yet what she lacked in experience was fully made up by her quiet way of maintaining order and her ability to impart knowledge to others. The first term was so much of a success that her services were again secured for the Fall term, which was equally as profitable.

District No. 4 Charles Cook, Agent.
Whole number of scholars in the district, 15.
Spring Term—Katie M. Storer, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 11; average number attending school, 9; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $3.50; price of board per week, $1.49.
Miss Storer, by her uniform kindness, won the love and respect of her pupils, the real secret of success, without which the highest culture fails to accomplish desirable results.

Fall Term—Gertie Graffam, of Saco, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 8; average number attending school, 7; length of term in weeks, 6; wages of teacher per week, $5.00; price of board per week, $2.00.

This was Miss Graffam's first school and she possesses the necessary qualifications, being a graduate of Saco High School, yet for the lack of cooperation between parents, teachers and scholars, the school did not come up to that high standard that it should. If parents, instead of being strangers in the schoolroom and listening with jealous criticism to the whims and conversation of the children out of school, would make their influence felt by frequent visits and cordial approbation of the good qualities of the teacher and the improvements of the school, a great benefit would be the result.

Winter Term—Jere B. Scribner, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 10; average number attending school, 9; length of term in weeks, 4; wages of teacher per week, $5.00; price of board per week, $1.50.

I find this school in a very prosperous condition, the only fault being the term is short. Mr. Scribner is an experienced teacher, and is truly the right man in the right place.

District No. 5. Wm. Fox, Agent.

Whole number of scholars in district, 16.

Spring Term, Lizzie M. Sawyer, of Limerick, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 8; average number attending school, 8; length of term in weeks, 6; wages of teacher per week, $3.00; price of board per week, $1.00.

Fall Term—Same Teacher.

Whole number attending school, 12; average number attending school, 11; length of term in weeks, 12; wages of teacher per week, $3.00; price of board per week, $1.00.
Miss Sawyer gave such good satisfaction in her former term that she was engaged to teach the Fall term, which was very successful. There was a good interest manifested. The instruction given to the small scholars in oral history is also worthy of special mention. The earnest and continuous efforts of Miss Sawyer in the school-room will never fail to make her school a success.

District No. 6. Frank Hobbs, Agent.

Whole number of scholars in district, 18:
Spring Term, Maud L Johnson, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 10; average number attending school, 9 13-20. Length of term, in weeks, 6. Wages of teacher per week, $3 00. Price of board per week, $1 85.

Fall Term—Same Teacher.
Whole number attending school, 10; average number attending school, 9. Length of term, in weeks, 10. Wages of teacher per week, $4 00. Price of board per week, $2 00.

Spring and Fall terms taught by Miss Johnson, whose highest aim was to have one of the best schools in town, and she met with good success in her efforts. A good degree of improvement was evident. All the exercises were orderly and each class prompt in their recitations. The deportment of the scholars indicated a readiness to obey, as a duty to themselves and teacher.

District No. 7. J. Frank Chadbourne, Agent.
Whole number of scholars in the district, 34.
Spring Term, Hattie C. Moulton, of Limington, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 19; average number attending school, 18; length of term, in weeks, 9; wages of teacher per week, $3.50; price of board per week, $1.50.

I visited this school but once, as it closed one week earlier than I was notified, on account of sickness. At my first visit I found the school well organized and a good interest was shown. I think the scholars in this school were instructed as near to pure English as any in town, and I learn that the school gave good satisfaction.
Winter Term, Nathan Cluff, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 21; average number attending school, 20; length of term in weeks, 12; wages of teacher per week, $6.25; price of board per week, $2.50.

Mr. Cluff is an able and experienced teacher. The advancement made in this school is second to none.

There are 8 scholars that were not absent one half day, showing a good interest.

This is a very interesting school, so much so that the parents of some of the scholars thought it a half day well spent in visiting the school, and by the united efforts of all the very best results were obtained.

District No. 9. John Jelleson, Agent.

Whole number of scholars in the district, 41.

Spring Term—Emma J. Grant of Lyman, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 30; average number attending school, 29; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of Teacher per week, $4.00; price of board per week, $2.00.

Fall Term—Same Teacher.

Whole number attending school, 30; average number attending school, 28; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $4.50; price of board per week, $2.00.

Miss Grant is a thorough and experienced teacher, having taught thirty-five schools. Both terms were very successful. Marked progress was made in the advance class in Arithmetic, Grammar, Physiology, and Geography. Writing, a branch much neglected in many schools, was well attended to. Some very neatly executed specimens of map drawing were shown at examination.

Winter Term—Geo. H. Day of Lyman, Teacher. Register not returned. This school was visited at commencement and at close; a good interest was maintained throughout the term. Mr. Day is an experienced teacher and is at home in the school room. I need not speak of any branch in particular, as the pace was onward in each branch.
DISTRICT NO. 10. ANSEL T. SMALL, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in district, 89.

Spring Term—LILLIAN M. LIBBY, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 55; average number attending school, 46; length of term, in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $5.00; price of board per week, $2.00.

FALL TERM—SAME TEACHER.

Whole number attending school, 57; average number attending school, 41; length of term, in weeks, 10; wages of teacher per week, $5.00. Price of board per week, $2.00.

Miss Libby labored faithfully in both terms. As there is a large number of small scholars much of her time was taken up by them. Quite a good interest was sustained throughout both terms, and I think gave good satisfaction. This school is a little crowded, and the time is not far distant, if not already, that to grade the school would be profitable.

Winter Term—FRANK HOBBS, teacher. This school now in session bids fair to be a good success. Mr. Hobbs is one of our best teachers, who possesses not only knowledge but the ability to impart it to others. It is impossible for one teacher to do justice in a school where so many small scholars attend. Let this matter be taken under consideration.

DISTRICT NO. 12. JOSEPH C. ROBERTS, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in the district, 38.

Spring Term—SUSIE F. HAYES, of Limerick, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 23; average number attending school, 21; length of term in weeks, 10; wages of teacher per week, $4.50; price of board per week, $1.70.

Miss Hayes is one of our best teachers. This is her fortieth year of teaching; by her ability and experience combined the very best results were obtained. At the examination the recitations were prompt and good advancement made in each branch. Writing was well attended to. The oral exercises were especially interesting. The deportment was good.
Fall Term—EDGAR M. CHICK, of Limington, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 28; average number attending school, 22; length of term in weeks, 10; wages of teacher per week, $6.50; price of board per week, $2.50.

Mr. Chick labored faithfully and profitably during the term. The pupils made great proficiency in reading. The spelling was excellent. The Arithmetic classes recited finely. Geography classes appeared well. Due attention was given to writing, and the class in oral physiology was especially interesting. Many new and original ideas were brought forward by Mr. Chick, which made the school particularly interesting and instructive.

DISTRICT NO. 14. DARLING P. KNIGHTS, AGENT.
Whole number of scholars in the district, 14.

Spring Term—LILLIAN SAWYER, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 9; average number attending school, 8; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $2.50; price of board per week, $1.50.

Fall Term—SAME TEACHER.
Whole number attending school, 12; average number attending school, 9; length of term in weeks, 11; wages of teacher per week, $2.80; price of board per week, $1.50.

These were Miss Sawyer's first schools. She succeeded very nicely. There was quite a good interest and a marked improvement made in reading, arithmetic and writing. The schools gave general good satisfaction. Some of the scholars are small, yet by the efforts on the part of the teacher the average number was good.

DISTRICT NO. 15. IVORY EARL, AGENT.
Whole number of scholars in the district, 10.

There is but one term of school in this district; now in session.
MARY CHASE, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 10; length of term in weeks, 10; wages of teacher per week, $5.00; price of board per week, $2.00.
I found this school on my first visit, under Miss Chase's tuition, in a very prosperous condition. Both teacher and scholars were ambitious to make the most of the time. Besides common English, geometry and French are attended to. I anticipate from the prospects presented a very profitable term.

DISTRICT NO. 16. ELBRIDGE SAWYER, AGENT.

Whole number of scholars in district, 36.

Summer Term—Lizzie E. Moulton, of Limerick, Teacher.
Whole number attending school, 12; average number attending school, 8; length of term in weeks, 8; wages of teacher per week, $3.00; price of board per week, $1.75

This school, like many others in town, is quite small in Summer. I think in a district of 36 scholars more than 8 ought to avail themselves of the privilege of attending school. However, Miss Moulton done quite good work in the school. I noticed considerable improvement in reading. Writing was not neglected in this school, and as good interest maintained as could be expected with so small scholars.

Winter Term—Jere B. Scribner, Teacher. Whole number attending school, 18; average number attending school, 16; length of term in weeks, 11; wages of teacher per week, $5.50; price of board per week, $2 25.

Mr. Scribner is an experienced teacher. At my first visit I found all the scholars deeply interested in their work, and earnestly endeavoring to make the most of their time. The teacher also seemed eager to do his best by those in his charge. There was good work done in the several branches. Arithmetic, Grammar, and Geography were well considered. Book-keeping, Astronomy and History were also studies of interest.

GENERAL REMARKS.

The schools throughout the town have not lost any of the interest manifested in former years. Many of the teachers have been residents of the town, some of them being employed throughout the year. This is an agreeable feature and speaks well for home talent and culture.
In the great work of education the teachers and pupils may be greatly assisted by the co-operative influence of the parents of the scholars. The school room and family circle are closely connected. The influence of one affects to a greater or less extent the other. To reach the highest attainment of the school-room, therefore, the influence without must be in harmony with that within. Parents must co-operate and assist both teacher and scholars, and should contribute their part to maintain proper authority and wholesome discipline. You should imbue the mind of your children to as great an extent as possible with the love of knowledge and the love of right. Visit the school-room, and there by your presence encourage the great work of mental and moral culture.

TEMPERANCE.

Our legislature has not been false to its trust, for an act has been passed making it compulsory for school officers to make provisions for instructing pupils in physiology and hygiene with special reference to the effect of alcoholic drinks, stimulants and narcotics upon the human system. Let the rising generation be educated on these questions, that they may act understandingly, and the result will be to elevate and establish a higher standard of morality.

The act also provides that pupils shall be instructed in regard to the effect of tobacco on the human system. The use of tobacco prevails to such an extent that it is with extreme caution I call your attention to it. My appeal is to the youths, to those who are not habituated to its use. Never allow yourselves to be a slave to any habit nor admit that you have not will power enough to break off from any habit that you have acquired. Dr. Tanner, by his will power fasted forty days; have you not will power enough to form good resolutions and then live up to them?

To meet the requirements of the above act I have adopted for general use in our schools Smith's Physiology for General Use. I have made arrangements with the publishers so that I could furnish scholars with books, many of them in exchange for old ones at one half the publishers' price of new books, thus making quite a saving in expense besides the convenience.

THE TEXT BOOKS IN USE IN THE TOWN ARE:

With these general remarks I close my report. Being truly grateful to both teachers and scholars and all others that have contributed to advance the cause of education in our town, I am, Yours truly,

GEO. P. CHASE,

Supervisor of Schools.
